After manoeuvres at the Makiki reserve the troops marched into town at 11 a.m. and re-embarked for the ship. From the moment that the order was given to embark until the last of the six boats, with a total of 160 men, left the shore the time was three minutes.

Captain Griffiths who is so well known and appreciated here in Honolulu, both on account of his being the master of the fast flyer the bark Albert and his own genial qualities, is now feeling justly proud of the performance of his son Alfred, who, in a bicycle contest at Oakland, held lately, broke the Coast record for 10 miles, making the distance in 30 minutes, beating the record 15 seconds. The champion rode a Cleveland.

AN EXCELLENT EXHIBITION

Drama, Farce and Music at St. Louis College.

An event always looked forward to with interest, by friends of the institution, is the yearly exhibition given by the scholars of St. Louis College under the able direction and management of the teachers of the college. On this last occasion which took place last evening the events were as varied as usual and consisted of, 1st: a drama, in 3 acts, entitled "The World's Fair Boys," and which pointed the moral that honesty was always the best policy, and showing in the tale, the trials and tribulations of a young orphan lad who, after passing through many vicissitudes and escaping many temptations, at last came out triumphant over injustice and wrong. The principal character was very well sustained by Master George Schrader other parts being well presented by Masters Cowes, Hansmann, Cullen, Kinney, Cook, Steward, Murray, Loulu, Willis, Apiki, Lloyd, Jarret and Hopkins. The stage setting of the piece was very presentable and two scenic views, painted by Brother Frank, added greatly to the presentation of the production. Musical interludes were introduced between various scenes in the different acts of the play and consisted of a semi chorus "Flower Land," the tenor parts being sung very effectively by Masters Neddie Crabbe and C. Cooper; a violin solo by Master Hansmann; a vocal solo, "Where are the Friends of my youth" very brilliant vocalized by Master Neddie Crabbe. A semi-chorus "We are marching" by Souza, was so well given that the Bishop of Panoopolis had to interpose his authority and plead for a non-encore, on account of the number of other events on the programme. A violin solo by Master Cowes and a vocal duet by Master Cooper and Cullen ended the musical interludes of the drama.

Part 2, of the programme was begun by a selection from "Falka" admirably performed by the orchestra. A farce "The office seekers" was productive of much laughter by the able presentation of the official worry which a worthy Minister of the Interior sustained from the applicants for place and pelf. The principal characters were acted by Masters Souza, Spencer, Medeiros, Soares, and Kaimana. A rousing chorus "Bill of Fare" taken part in by 75 boys under the direction of Brother Albert, made the rafters ring, and won hearty applause. The Exhibition ended with a well executed March "Utopian," by the College orchestra.

The audience present filled the large hall to repletion and probably numbered not less than 500 people. Amongst those who were present was noticed; His Lordship Bishop of Panoopolis Rev. Father Leonore; Prof. Alexander and Antone Perry, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham and Mrs. F. S. Dodge, of the Board of Education; A. T. Atkinson, Inspector-General of Schools; Capt. Roke and officers of H. B. Let'em Smash.

A friend came around a few days ago, and stated that the result of a few drinks of Long Life Whiskey from the Anchor was a smash up. The buggy in which he was driving looked like a constitution—after W. O. Smith's amendments were passed, and the owner looked rather doubtful. A letter of introduction to C. R. Collins on King street, helped the poor boy. Mr. Collins trimmed, fixed and settled that buggy in such a shape that when the driver next time tackles the L. L. W. he won't have a chance to smash, and if he does, Collins is still there.

The Shutzen Club elected the following officers last night: President, Carl Klemme; 1st Vice President, Harry Klemme; 2nd Vice President, George Markham; Secretaries, Geo. Cavanaugh and Mr. Cranston; and Treasurer, Mr. Muller.
